Editorial

The last week of May found many old girls at Mary Baldwin for Commencement—a glad and happy week of reunion. The meeting of the Alumnæ Association was not only an interesting but a most profitable one. There was a spirit of enthusiasm for the work of the Association and the determination to make it a factor in the interests of every Baldwin girl. At this meeting it was decided to set aside October the fourth, Miss Baldwin's birthday, as "Baldwin Day." Each year, on that day, all Chapters of the Association will meet, and better still, let many new chapters then be formed.

Baldwin Girls, everywhere, why not let us start an endowment fund for our school? Other Alumnæ have accomplished as much, why not we? Read the motion carried at the business meeting this year and consider the suggestion.

Last year 111 new members were added to our list. Let us not fall short of that number this year but strive to even increase it. Talk up the Association to Baldwin girls wherever you meet them and try to arouse their interest and get them to join.

Chapters have been formed in several cities and there are so many others in which they should be organized. Baldwin girls are scattered throughout almost every State in the Union and only six States can boast of Chapters. Twenty or more cities could easily be named in which chapters should be formed, and could be done so easily if only a couple of girls would put their heads and energy together and arouse the latent interest in M. B. S. girls there.

To the girls of the classes: '65-'66, '75-'76, '85-'86, '95-'96, and '05-'06, wherever you may be, begin now to plan for your reunion in May 1915. Come yourself and urge many of your schoolmates to come with you, for a glimpse of your Alma Mater and chums of former days cannot but add greatly to the pleasures Fate has meant you to enjoy in 1915.

The Meeting of the Alumnae Association Friday, May 22d, 1914

The annual meeting of the Mary Baldwin Alumnæ Association was held on May 22, 1914 at 10:30 a. m. at the M. B. S. The meeting was called to order by the President, Miss Peale, and Miss Mattoon offered the opening prayer. The President greeted the "new" girls of 1914 and the "old" girls of 1912. Miss Mattoon then gave a short account of "Association Day," a recent addition to the Seminary finals. On this day there is always a celebration in which the entire student body of the Seminary takes part. The visiting graduates were, this year, asked to follow the 1914 graduates in the procession.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Then followed the President's report which is here given:

Members of the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Association:

Again it is my privilege to bring to you my report as your president, and again the splendid co-operation of all the officers, chairmen of committees, of Mr. King and Miss Weimar combined with that of the members and many friends of our organization, enables me to do so with pleasure.

I find some trouble to put in definite words the exact work which I have done during this past year. I can safely say, that I have tried not to let a single opportunity pass which would help this organization in any way.

I have held five meetings of the Executive Committee and innumerable conferences with committee chairmen and other interested persons whose advice and assistance have been of great service.

I have held one meeting of the Harrisonburg chapter in my home. And it was my great good fortune to be present at the organization of two of our strongest chapters,—Roanoke and New York. The first at the home of Mrs. Sallie Penn-Vickers, Roanoke, Va., and the second at the Hotel Martinque, New York City. I was only a figure-head, I assure you, for never have I found a better systematized or well planned meeting than were the ones arranged by Mrs. Sallie Penn-Vickers and Miss Mary Penn in Roanoke, and by Mrs. Janetta Baker-Felter and Mrs. Emma Prince-Wernery in New York. These chapters are the direct result of last year's Reunion for Mrs. Vickers, Miss Penn and Mrs. Felter were here and were inspired to undertake this work at that time.

Work upon the class lists has been slowly progressing. I have made many corrections and have compiled and had typewritten several groups of names for the chairman of the membership committee and other interested parties.

With the approval of the Executive Committee I arranged and had printed five hundred application blanks. And in all I have written about two hundred letters in connection with the work of the Association.

I have used $4.00 of the Association's money given me by Mrs. Blackburn, the Corresponding Secretary, from amount charged to her last year's expense account for stamps, typewriting, paper, etc.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET R. PEALE, '10.
President M. B. S. A. A.

A short report of the Class Presidents was given, then the Treasurer's report was read by the Treasurer, Miss Janet Woods:

The report of the Corresponding Secretary was read and accepted:

I have written about fifty letters, most of them asking for new names or addresses and sent cards to all the Class Presidents requesting that their reports be ready for to-day's meeting. I have sent out several supplies of stationery to Class Presidents and have received several initiation fees, all of which have been duly forwarded to the Treasurer. I regret that additional household cares have necessarily limited the time which I could devote to Alumnæ work.

Respectfully submitted,

HATTIE STRAYER BLACKBURN,

Cor. Sec'y.

The Chairman of the Membership Committee, Miss Kate Earle Terrell, gave her report which told of chapters formed in the following cities: Harrisonburg, Va.; New York; Birmingham, Ala.; Selma, Ala.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Washington, D. C.; Roanoke, Va., and Columbia, S. C. She also reported 111 new members since the meeting last May. The President then suggested that a chapter be formed in Staunton and the local members present were asked to remain after the regular meeting adjourned.

The President said that the Publication and News Committees, as well as the Entertainment Committee, would give their reports, not in words, but in the result of their work.

The Auditing Committee reported the Treasurer's books perfectly correct.

The Scholarship Committee reported the Alumnæ pupil, Miss McCutchan, doing fine work. She graduated in the Literary Course this session.

The report of Reunion Committee was given by Miss Kate Earle Terrell, President of Class of 1912, which class held its reunion this Commencement. This reunion had been planned before these girls left the Seminary, and every girl in the 1912 class list received an invitation this spring. About twenty-five girls came and were guests of the Seminary.

The report of the Graduates' Council which was sent in by Mrs. Sue Stribling Snodgrass was read by Mrs. A. M. Howison. The summary of her report was as follows:

All of the Alumnæ who hear this report from the Graduates' Council doubtless know that, as directed by the Association, last year's report, embodying the opinions for and against a Junior College, was sent just as read to you, to the Board of Trustees.

Meanwhile, the Virginia Association of Colleges and Schools for Girls has made great strides on the road towards Standardization. Their committee reports that nearly all the Virginia schools have expressed themselves as greatly interested in attaining a standard which will be generally accepted throughout the country.

In order to discuss and work out practical plans for this standardization, a conference was held at Bryn Mawr College April 14th. There were present at this meeting the Deans of the Standard Colleges offering co-operation in this plan of the Virginia Association,—Dean Caleb, of Vassar; Dean Lord of Goucher; Dean Comstock of Smith and Dean Purington of Mt. Holyoke. (Wellesley not present, but offers admission to its Junior class by Advanced Standing examinations.)

Many details were discussed and decided upon in working out the relationship and system of exchange between these standard colleges and the Virginia institutions. Your President considered it most desirable to await the decisions of this important conference before sending out the annual letter to the Graduates that we might send them the latest news on the subject. Therefore, it was May 1st before I was able to get out the circular letter, but with it were sent to each Graduate Alumnæ copies of the Virginia Association Report of 1913 on Standardization, of their later circular letter to Virginia schools on the same subject and also the report of the Deans' Conference with questions asked and answered, so that tho' the replies to my letter were not so numerous as last year, they are of greater value, because each Graduate was sent all available information and knew much more on the subject than before.

On May 5th, 1914, the enclosed letter from Judge Quarles, the Secretary of the Board of Trustees, was received. Considering the decision of the Board as reported to me in April by Dr. Fraser (at Miss Peale's request) as temporary and in view of the prominence of this subject of Standardization, not only in our own school and State but throughout the country, no other question was propounded in the secretary's letter but this—"Do you or do you not think it advisable for our Alma Mater at this juncture to meet the requirements of the Virginia Association for Standardization, i. e. by sending on students for Advanced Standing examinations and submitting an outline of Freshman and Sophomore work as done at M. B. S.?"

Fifty leters were sent out and of the answers received fifteen were most emphatically in the affirmative.

To the argument that there is no great demand for the two years of advanced work and that those who want a college course would prefer to go all four years to a Class A College, there is in my mind one reply.

I feel sure there are many girls throughout the South who deeply desire a real college course but whose means are not sufficient for the four years' expense of a big college,—to them the two years at M. B. S. where the cost is not so great,—if the work done is up to the recognized standard,—would appeal very strongly.

Now that these big colleges are holding out their hands in fellowship and co-operation, I do not see how any school in Virginia can think it can prosper by holding aloof and refusing to grasp their hands! The reputation of our school is at stake! Let us with one voice urge the Board to co-operate in this work of the Virginia Association that the M. B. S. may have an unquestioned standing among the schools of the United States!

Respectfully submitted,

SUE B. STRIBLING SNODGRASS,

Martinsburg, West Va. Secretary of Graduates' Council.

After the reading of this report, open discussion was asked for, and several members present expressed their views. Miss Weimar pointed out the difficulties of making the Seminary a Junior College. First, there is the lack of an endowment fund and if the Seminary were a Junior College, this would necessitate cutting off two years of the Preparatory work. Art, music, and other special branches would be depressed, and thus the financial income of the school would be decreased.

As to the statement that the graduates of the Seminary, as a Junior College, could get better positions more readily than now, would not be true, for preference would still be given to the graduates of the older Colleges.

It was moved and seconded that this report be accepted and handed to Mr. Landes to be read to the Board of Trustees; also moved and seconded that a committee be appointed to consult with Miss Weimar and add a clause to the report given. The gist of this clause was to ask the Trustees if, when they saw their way clear financially, would they be willing to make the Seminary a Junior College. The Committee appointed was Miss Bumgardner and Mrs. Howison.

Memorials were then read on the deaths of Dr. Waddell, Miss Frost, Mrs. Lucy Bailey Heneberger, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Hughes Taylor.

The old business of the Alumnæ meeting was now acted upon. The changes made in the Constitution at the last meeting were read and accepted. It was then moved and seconded that the Publication Committee have 500 copies of the Constitution in its new form printed.

Here followed the new business of the meeting.

Election of Officers:

President—Kate Earle Terrell, '12.

Vice-President—Mrs. Annie Hotchkiss-Howison, '76.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Jennie McCue Marshall, '90.

Treasurer—Bessie Hoge, '04.

Corresponding Secretary—Sarah James Bell, '12.

It was moved and seconded that, biennially at each business meeting of the Association when new officers are elected, the girls of the two preceding years be invited to return and hold a reunion of their respective classes.

A motion was made and seconded that Miss Baldwin's birthday (October 4) be known throughout the land as "Baldwin Day" and on that day each chapter of our organization shall hold a meeting of some kind.

Mrs. Turk moved that all the Alumnæ go on each Commencement Sunday afternoon to Miss Baldwin's grave and hold a brief memorial service. This motion was seconded.

Moved that a committee be appointed to request that Alumnæ Day, since it has duly become a part of commencement week, be placed upon the Seminary invitations. This was seconded.

Moved and carried "That the privileges of membership in this Association be granted in full for life to any member of the M. B. S. A. A. upon the down payment of $10.00, and further that the same privilege of life membership be granted to all who may now or hereafter wish to join this Association. Further, that the money thus received be kept separate from other funds and be used as the basis of an endowment fund."

A suggestion was made that several ladies who attended the Seminary as early as 1854,-'56, and around those years, be made honorary members of the Association. This suggestion was accepted.

Post-cards of the Mary Baldwin School in Korea were given as souvenirs of the meeting.

Miss Meetze said that of the $500.00 she was trying to raise for the Korea school, all but $16.50 had been made. Mrs. Howison suggested that this amount be given by the Alumnæ Association to raise the desired sum. This was seconded.

After this we had the farewell of Miss Peale, for two years the loyal and excellent President of this Association.

Since there is no more business to be considered and this meeting is practically at an end the time has come for me to bid you good-bye. As I say that word a great sadness possesses me for the pleasure that has come to me as your president has far outweighed the trouble. The little bit that has been accomplished in these two years has been your work, not mine; and it is to you—members of the Mary Baldwin Alumnæ Association—to whom the credit should be given. Think how powerless I should have been without your willing and ever ready co-operation.

It is now my very great pleasure to welcome to this chair our new President, Kate Earle Terrell, of Birmingham, under whose direction this organization is going to grow and prosper as never before. Those who know her are even now congratulating the Association upon this good fortune. And those who do not now know her and her exceptional ability, will 'ere long be doing likewise. All that I ask it that you render to her the same allegiance you have given me. The President's chair now awaits Miss Terrell.

After a short address by our new President, Miss Terrell, the meeting was adjourned.

Commencement 1914

The Graduating Class of 1914 was the largest in the history of the Seminary. Owing to the number of music graduates, four separate commencement recitals were given in which the elocution and vocal, as well as the instrumental music talent of the graduates was shown.

Student Association Day Exercises, an added feature to Commencement since 1912, were held on the Seminary Campus in the afternoon of May 23. The program is as follows:

1. Procession of Graduates, Attendants, and Visiting Alumnæ.
2. Crowning of the May Queen.
   Queen, Miss Margaret Hall.
   Spirit of Spring, Mary Nelson Quarles.
   Attendants, Members of the Primary Department.
3. May Pole Dance— By Sixteen Little Girls.
4. Parasol Drill— By Sixteen Young Ladies.
5. Class History—Collegiate Graduates.
   Miss Elizabeth A. Bell.
6. Class History—Graduates in Music, Art and Expression.
   Miss Ola M. Allison.
7. Presentations—Miss Agnes L. Woods.
8. Remarks by Dr. A. M. Fraser, President of Board of Trustees.
9. Parting Song of the Class of 1914.
10. Grand March and M. B. S. Song.

The Baccalaureate Sermon was preached by Rev. W. T. Palmer, D. D., of Lynchburg, Va.

The final exercises and awarding of honors took place in the Seminary Chapel on Tuesday morning, May 26. The address to the Graduates was made by Mr. Booth of Grand Rapids, Mich., and was greatly enjoyed. Dr. Palmer delivered the diplomas to the twenty-two Graduates and the Class of 1914 bid farewell to Baldwins.

Reunion of the Class of 1912

Away back in May 1912 the Seniors of that year, who had the honor of being the first organized class ever to graduate from M. B. S., met in solemn council. Along with the vows of eternal friendship each promised to use every possible effort to return to their Alma Mater for the Commencement of 1914. The parting was hard that year as is always the case but fewer tears were shed for each graduate in saying "good-bye" would whisper "I'll be back in 1914 and will surely see you then." The days and months came rolling by bringing echoes every now and then from that resolution made by the class of 1912.

Early in the year of 1914 these girls started systematically to plan for their Reunion. Realizing how much real fun 'twas going to be, they conceived the idea of including all the girls belonging to 1912 in this Reunion plan. A petition was immediately sent into the Executive Committee of the Alumnæ Association, permission was given and a committee on arrangements appointed. Notes were written to every girl on the 1912 year list and many took advantage of the opportunity offered.

Now will you skip over a few months and picture yourself in my place down at the old C. & O. station in Staunton waiting with Mr. King to welcome the first crowd of old girls. We walked up and down wondering just who would come on this train. Presently we heard a whistle and a minute later I found myself frantically kissing a former room-mate, and could hear Mr. King saying as he gave each the glad hand: "Well, bless my soul, if here isn't Lucy and Edith, etc," and all down the line he went never missing a single name. Then after looking them all over he said: "Everyone of you have gotten mighty thin since you left Baldwin's. Let's see if we can't add a few pounds during this visit." Then he piled us into machines and away we sped.

Twould have warmed the heart of any old Seminary girl to have heard their cries of delight when they rounded the corner and first caught sight of Baldwins. But now I must hurry on with my story and leave you to go in your imagination with them up the long flight of steps guarded so well by Pompey and Cæsar, into Miss Weimar's office to receive her cordial welcome, through the long halls and over the familiar paths, stopping ever and anon to greet the dear familiar face of a teacher or an old friend.

The morning of Alumnæ Day beamed bright and clear and promptly at 10:30 a goodly number of loyal Baldwinites were assembled for the business session. And dotted here and there over the room one could see little green and white ribbons being proudly worn. "What did they signify?" you ask. Why green and white were the colors of 1912 and these little ribbons separated the 1912 girls from all the rest of the motley crowd. In fact these same identical ribbons were so numerous that their wearers most took possession of the meeting and actually would not leave until they had elected their own class President as President of the Association.

Nor was that the last of the little green and white ribbons. All during commencement they were proudly flaunted in our faces. Dr. Fraser, the loyal patron of 1912, did likewise appearing at the class day exercises, before the 1914 graduates with his green and white streamers. Even on commencement morning not a single eye out of all the hundreds, who had come to see him award the honors and prizes, could miss also seeing the green and white ribbons pinned upon his lapel and everybody knew too that he wore them because he was so very proud of "his class."

Late in the afternoon of Alumnæ Day an informal tea was given on the front terrace by the Alumnæ Association in honor of the girls of 1912. Everybody talked to everybody else and we had the jolliest kind of a time getting acquainted.

But you have not yet heard of the event which really brought this 1912 class back into fame. On class day the 1912 Graduates were lined up just behind the Seniors and they marched in the class-day procession across the Hill Top lawn, bearing aloft their 1912 pennant, before hundreds of spectators, to their seats of honor with the Seniors. Kate Earle Terrell, Josephine Mansfield, Minnie Mansfield, Nelle Hiner, Lucy Lyne, Virginia Magruder, Louise Eisenberg, Sarah Bell, and Fannie Strauss were the 1912 graduates in line. Nannie Timberlake, Elizabeth McCue, Mabel Odenbaugh, and Carrie Tinsley were the only ones missing from their ranks.

The time for saying good-bye came all too soon. The fact that in seven years another Reunion Day would be at hand was consoling, still that day seemed far off and did not ease the parting. "In 1921 may we all meet again" was their good-bye wish.

AN ENVIOUS SISTER OF 1910.

"Miss Carr has gone to Paris, France, to continue her studies in piano music. Word has just been received that she has been accepted as a pupil by Isidore Philipp, the world-renowned teacher and authority on the piano. "Miss Barkman has entered the Peabody Conservatory of Music to continue her studies. After playing before Director Harold she has been assigned to Mr. George F. Boyle's class. And hardly any clo'es—
But my folks say
That they declare
I'm sweeter than a rose!
